

Workshops

Museum of Hartlepool &
Hartlepool Art Gallery

2019 / 20

EYFS (1hr)

My First Visit to a Museum and My First Visit to an Art Gallery

An introduction to what a Museum or Art Gallery does, with a chance to explore the displays, take part in a choice of activities and make some art or objects to display.

Key Stage 1 Workshops (1hr 30mins)

My First Visit to a Museum and My First Visit to an Art Gallery

An introduction to what a Museum or Art Gallery does, with a chance to explore the displays, take part in a choice of activities and make some art or objects to display. The KS1 version is 30 minutes longer than EYFS.

Victorian Christmas (November and December)

Our seasonal workshop explores how Christmas was celebrated in Victorian times, it involves traditional toys and object handling, a story and making a traditional craft to take away.

Key Stage 2 Workshops (2hrs)

Roman Remains

Become an archaeologist and discover the world of the Romans. Handle real Roman artefacts and learn about the different materials and objects used by the Romans in Hartlepool.

Tudor Banquet

What did rich people eat at banquets? What did the ordinary person have on their table? Explore Tudor parties, discover where Tudor food came from, even try your hand at Tudor dancing.

These workshops are part of the Making a Mark project: a partnership between the Museum of Hartlepool and other Tees Valley museums all supported by the Arts Council and The National Portrait Gallery.

Museum Creative Writing

Use the explorers who donated the first objects to the Museum of Hartlepool to inspire story writing. This workshop includes object handling, exploring the museum, developing characters, dialogue and a setting in an immersive museum environment.

Portraits and Art

What better way to explore what makes you, you than through self portraits? In these sessions, children explore art works and learn step-by-step techniques for making their own

Local heroes; local history

Whether through great achievements or acts of kindness, it is people who've made Hartlepool what it is. Students contrast portraits of Ralph Ward Jackson and Henry Hood to explore what portraits say about their sitters and about life in Victorian Hartlepool.

World War One – The Bombardment of the Hartlepool's

This workshop explores what happened during The Bombardment of the Hartlepool's on 16th December 1914, including an object handling activity using real objects from the time.

Museum in Your Classroom – Free online resource

The Museum in your classroom online toolkit is a complete guide to planning, researching and producing an exhibition in your class.

Creating a school exhibition brings a real sense of meaning to learning and gives purpose to children's work. It's also a great way to organise your topic planning. The MIYC toolkit links directly to the History, English and Computing curriculum as well as providing exciting cross-curricular opportunities.

"Having an exhibition at the end of the topic gave children a real sense of purpose to their work – knowing they were producing work for other people to see really motivated them." Teacher

Access the free toolkit here;

<https://teesvalleymuseums.org/schools/museum-in-your-classroom/>

The Museum of Hartlepool have a series of Resource loans boxes available to hire with real and replica objects, ephemera and teachers pack which can be used (if desired) alongside the Museum in Your Classroom toolkit. Contact us for more details.

How to book

Contact Lisa Newton/Caroline Shilson

Phone - 01429 523483

E-mail learningteam@hartlepool.gov.uk

The Learning Team

Hartlepool Cultural and Information Service
Sir William Gray House, Clarence Road,
Hartlepool, TS24 8BT
01429 523483

